

Casting

We will be pairing a young comedian with an After Hours musical guest for an up close and personal “pillow talk” interview taking place in an atmospheric, CB 2 -styled bedroom.

The casting of the comedian/host will be a huge piece of this project. I really love Alia Shawkat, Aubrey Plaza, Michael Cera as a jumping off point in terms of personality types. Someone that is bright, fun, disarming and boundlessly curious, has a great deadpan, is effortlessly funny and slightly awkward. And most importantly someone you would want to have a intimate face to face conversation with in bed.

Your cool hilarious girlfriend or your unthreatening, awkward and hilarious slightly or totally gay best guy friend.
